Maritime Men Eye Rail Aid

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP) — A congressional investigation of the threatened maritime strike was suspended today on official advice that the situation is too delicate to risk it, said Chairman Kelley, D., Pa., of a house labor subcommittee which had started hearings on the strike scheduled for June 15.

WASHINGTON, June 7 (U.P.) —CIO maritime unions today marshalled fresh labor support for their strike scheduled for June 15, and hinted that it may be accompanied by a partial tieup of railroad freight.

They suggested that sympathetic railroad workers might refuse to pass through maritime picket lines to deliver freight to shoreside factories. Thus, even if the government were operating the ships, freight would move in and out of ports only with great difficulty.

Second Day Idle

Some 5,000 AFL west coast maritime workers, effectively "softening up" shipowners, stayed away from their jobs today for the second consecutive day. Their leader said the men would not work again until their own contract negotiations began.

Other developments:

1. The strike strategy committee of one CIO union—Joseph Curran's national maritime union—met in Washington to plan expenditure of its $1,000,000 strike fund.

2. A house labor sub-committee hurried to open public hearings on the maritime disputes, calling in maritime commission chairman Jay Carmody as the first witness.

3. The six CIO and one independent maritime unions planning the June 15 walkout openly invited the AFL unions to join their strike. The seven unions in turn, promised to support any action the AFL sailors may take "to win improved wages and conditions."

4. CIO spokesmen leaving for a world federation of trade unions meeting in Moscow predicted that WFTU workers throughout the world would support the shipping strike.

Based on Whitney

CIO leaders speculating on cooperation from railroad men based their hopes primarily on a warm telegram from President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Whitney, bitter over the way President Truman broke the recent railroad strike, wished the maritime workers "success in your demands for increased wages and better working conditions."

In a message to Curran and President Harry Bridges of the longshoremen's and warehousemen's union, Whitney said:

"The President's fascist program in dealing with the engineers and trainmen was well planned and every effort was made to keep the facts from the public."

Whitney advised Curran and Bridges to let the public in on details of all conferences and predicted that the public will be for labor when it learns that management is "attempting to crucify labor."

Colonel, WAC Held on Jewel Theft Charge

WASHINGTON, June 7 (U.P.)— The war department revealed today that an army colonel and his WAC captain wife have confessed the theft of German crown jewels valued at more than $1,500,000.

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP) — The war department said today a WAC captain and her colonel husband have been taken into custody in connection with the theft of $1,500,000 in jewels from Kronberg castle, Germany.

Col. A. G. Miller, representing the provost marshal general office in the war department, told reporters the jewels and other heirlooms, including an ancient Bible, had been recovered.

Miller said two others were implicated, one a major still on active duty and a discharged corporal.

"We will grab them before your stories get on the wire," Miller said.

The WAC captain and her colonel husband, he said, were picked up by military authorities at 2 a.m. Monday in the La Salle hotel in Chicago.

They had previously evaded military authorities who were closing in on them in a small Wisconsin town.

Miller declined to name any of the individuals involved.

Military authorities in the United States got into the case only last December 6th, he said. There had previously been an investigation in Frankfurt, Germany, to establish that the jewels had been stolen.

At first from six to 10 persons were suspected, he related. Among them was the WAC captain, who with several other WAC captains had been in charge of a rest camp at the Kronberg castle.

Suspicion centered on her and then on the colonel, Miller said, when it was found they had been married. The colonel had been a frequent visitor at the camp.

Governmental Ownership Test Looms in Primaries

(See page 3 for Sen. Glen H. Taylor's answer)

By FRANK W. PITMAN

BOISE, June 7 (AP)—A direct test of public sentiment on governmental ownership of basic industries shaped up today as the prime feature of Idaho's nominating election next Tuesday.

Sen. Charles C. Gossett, D., Ida., put the issue squarely before the voters last night in an address which he termed "the major statement" of his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the two year unexpired term of the late Sen. John Thomas, Republican.

Gossett, in his broadcast last night, asserted that by his statement Taylor had "attacked the government of the United States." If Taylor's plan were followed, Gossett said, "private ownership would be gone."

The former governor who resigned to accept the interim senate appointment, charged that Taylor's statement had expanded the primary campaign from the status of a nominating contest to "an election to decide whether Idaho will take the lead in bringing about the downfall of the American government and in replacing it with a foreign system which has proved inferior in every way."

Donart has had no comment on Taylor's statement, and Gossett said: "We must assume until he denies it that Senator Taylor's words are his (Donart's) words.

"This proposal by Senator Taylor and his controlled candidate wipes out the essence o fall that this nation and our Democratic party stand for. I am opposed to it with the force that I can command."

(In Twin Falls, Taylor denied having advocated nationalization of industry, and ridiculed Gossett's address.)

Besides Gossett and Donart, Paul L. Geddes of Blackfoot also seeks the Democratic senatorial nomination. On the Republican side, Rep. Henry C. Dworshak of Burley, Richard H. Wells of Pocatello and Orrin

Terminal Pay Bill Called up; Passage Seen

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—The house, with manifest enthusiasm, today called up legislation to pay some 15,000,000 past and present servicemen an average of $250 each to cover furlough time missed in uniform.

Its backers, led by Rep. Dwight L. Rogers, D., Fla., and Robert L. Sikes, D., Fla., predicted its passage without opposition after a few hours of debate and said the chances for early senate approval "look good."

The only amendment in sight was a non-controversial one intended to simplify payment methods. In preliminary form it would permit enlisted men entitled to terminal furlough money to claim it by mail, or collect it in cash at local army or navy offices.

Here's what the legislation will do if it becomes law:

1. Entitle enlisted personnel to a cash payment for furlough time not used up in service. Payment would be made at the time of discharge for those still in uniform, or immediately for those already back in civies. It applies to personnel who have served at any time since Sept. 8, 1939.

2. Compute furlough time on the basis of two and one-half days for each month of service, with a limit of 120 days that may be accrued. However, furlough time built up while in service would first have to be deducted.

3. Authorize the secretaries of the war and navy departments to make the payments "on the basis of sworn statements" by the applicants. This provision, military committee members said privately, probably will result in numerous claims for the maximum of 120 days pay.

4. Direct payments to next of kin in cases of men who have died.

5. Exempt the payments from taxes and from all claims of creditors.

Boy, 18, Plans To Wed 79 Year Old Kentuckian

LOUISA, Ky., June 7 (AP)—Delbert (Shorty) Sprouse, 18, bearing written consent of his parents, obtained a license today to marry 79-year-old Mrs. Mattie Lyons Large, but immediately ran into another delay in his plans to wed the elderly widow.

Sprouse, lacking his parents' consent, which was necessary because he is a minor, had been denied the license by Lawrence county clerk W. H. Moore yesterday.

The youth made known that he was having difficulty in finding a minister who would consent to marry them and that there would be a delay until tomorrow, in the wedding, which will take place at Mrs. Large's home, in nearby Gladys, Ky.

A widow for 17 years, she has seven living children and 49 grandchildren, the youngest of whom is the same age as her husband-to-be, Moore said.

The Large and Sprouse families have occupied adjoining farms for several years.

Anthracite Miner Walkout Settled

NEW YORK, June 7 (U.P.) — An agreement between hard coal operators and the United Mine Workers (AFL) on a new contract settling the eight-day-old strike in the anthracite industry was reached at 4 p. m. today, it was announced.

Hospital Survey To Start June 25

Chairman Earnest V. Molander of the Twin Falls county commissioners announced receipt Friday of word from Fisher and Fisher, Denver architects, that representatives of their firm will come to Twin Falls June 25 to start their survey at the Twin Falls county general hospital.

The board chairman said that he is writing Alan Fisher, a partner of the firm, to verify the date as being satisfactory with the board.

Purpose of the survey will be to determine the extent to which present hospital facilities can be utilized in contemplated expansion of the institution and also to provide county officials with expert opinion on modern hospital facilities.

High Percentage of Hay Fever Relief Reported From Drug Found by Utahn

SALT LAKE CITY, June 7 (AP) — Relief in a high percentage of hay fever cases was reported today following use of a drug discovered by a new University of Utah professor, Dr. Walter S. Loewe.

Dr. Loewe, 51-year-old German refugee pharmacologist, has been in the United States 12 years, coming to Utah last January. He said he expects to conduct further research in this field.

Tests in use of the new drug were conducted at Columbia Presbyterian medical center in New York.

The palliative, antihallan, a non-toxic coal-tar derivative also promises some aid in the treatment of other allergies of nose and skin, its sponsors claim.

The effects are described in the June issue of the Bulletin of the New York Academy of Medicine by Dr. Alexander D. Ghiselin, Jr., who conducted controlled experiments for a year at the Columbia university Presbyterian hospital medical center with Dr. John D. Kernan, director of the department of otolaryngology there.

Dr. Ghiselin says that tests and clinical studies conducted in 42 cases indicated antihallan was "a useful drug for obtaining relief in a high percentage of cases of seasonal and non-seasonal rhinitis." He says "only four cases were failures."

These advances were listed for the new drug:

1. It avoids the "time-consuming" skin tests and laboratory examinations required for diagnosis with other allergy treatments.

2. It is given in the form of a capsule, between three and ten a day after meals, for an average period of three weeks, on physician's prescription—instead of injections or nose drops.

3. Its relief has persisted over periods of up to nine months and more before recurrence, indicating it has attacked the cause as well as the symptoms.

He asserts that only about 30 per cent of all cases "showed any tendency to relapse . . . and even in these cases a considerable degree of improvement was still retained."

OPA Puts Milk Price Up One Cent, Butter 11 Cents; Store Bread Ration Seen

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP) —The OPA today ordered an immediate cent-a-quart increase in milk prices for most of the nation.

The boost is the first of a series for dairy products which Stabilization Director Chester Bowles calculates will add $250,000,000 annually to housewives' food bills.

Bowles directed the price hikes last week, saying they were necessary because of the higher prices farmers are paying for dairy feed and because of "apparent congressional determination to slash food subsidies."

In addition to the milk price hike, Bowles authorized increases of about 11 cents a pound for butter, and about six cents for cheddar cheese. OPA expects to put these into effect next week.

Bowles has predicted further "sharp" rises for dairy products if congress finally slashes funds for food subsidies.

Rationing to Stores?

Simultaneously Bowles revealed that the government is considering rationing of bread to retail stores that now to consumers directly.

He said the government stopped involves rationing of wheat stocks to millers, of flour to bakeries and of bread to retail shops. He told the senate's small business committee that any rationing of bread to the consumer would be extremely difficult.

In carrying out Bowles' instructions on milk the OPA also ordered these other price hikes in the area affected:

The Schedule

For cottle cream and all other cream containing at least 10 per cent of butterfat, 4 cents per half pint, 8 cents per pint, 16 cents per quart; half and half—half cream and half milk—one-half cent a half pint in sales of two bottles.

For producers, the increase amounts to 10 cents per hundredweight of milk, 10½ cents per pound of butterfat, or four cents per gallon.

Areas not included in the 40-cent per hundredweight increase granted to producers and the one cent a quart increase at retail are:

1. Federal marketing areas where milk prices are under jurisdiction of the agriculture department. One has asked that none of the increases already have been put into effect. The agency added that in the others "they will be made as

Olmstead, Former Twin Falls Man, Is China's Food Adviser

NANKING, June 7 (AP)—Ralph W. Olmstead, formerly of Twin Falls, Ida., has accepted an invitation of T. V. Soong, president of the executive council, to serve as his adviser on food and distribution problems in China.

Olmstead formerly was director of operations in China for the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration.

Former Lt.-Col. Ralph Olmstead graduated in 1923 from the Twin Falls high school where he was cheer leader. His home was in Minidoka.

Following his graduation from the University of Idaho, he went to Washington, D. C., as secretary to the former Sen. James P. Pope, Idaho Democrat who is now director of the TVA.

He began his Washington career as a capitol cop and then got into the department of agriculture by way of law school. During the war he was supply officer of the war food administration. In that capacity he toured France, England and Russia in the fall of 1944.

Chosen as one of the "Interesting People of the United States" by the American magazine, the Idahoan and his job then were described in the December, 1944, issue thus:

"Perched on the roof of a limestone cave in Atchison, Kan., are enough rations of eggs, meats and other foods to feed a nation of 20 million for a year. Back of this tremendous food dump is a redheaded lieutenant-colonel with broad shoulders, a precise voice and as western as the sagebrush."

As supply officer Olmstead bought $8,000,000 worth of food daily. He also served as director of operations in China for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration.

His wife, a former Boise girl, is a niece of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

Three-County Hunt Seeking Club Looters

JEROME, June 7 — Officers in three counties were searching today for clues to two amusement resort burglaries within a few days, apparently by the same men whose latest break-in netted them more than $2,000 in a heavy safe which they carried away.

Sheriff Lee Johnson, Jerome, said that tactics used in the break-in Thursday morning at the Chicken Inn six miles west of here were similar to those used Wednesday morning in burglary of the N club west of Twin Falls. The loot was $250 at the latter club.

"Both break-ins were carried out in exactly the same way," the sheriff declared, "the thieves waited until the proprietors had gone out to breakfast prior to taking their money home and while they were out, the burglary occurred."

The break-in at the Chicken inn, located just inside Gooding county, may have included three men, according to Johnson, as the heavy safe containing $2,000 was carried away bodily by the thieves. They also carried off two slot machines full of coins.

The burglary was effected between 8 and 7 a.m., when Mac Millen, the proprietor, drove into Jerome for breakfast. Entrance was gained by smashing a panel in the front door and opening the door from the inside.

Tracks outside the inn revealed that the thieves had backed their car up to the door and loaded the safe into the machine.

PILOT

BALTIMORE, June 7 — Joseph Zaneskki of Baltomire says he was driving his car—and fast—when a Virginia state trooper waved him down, and said sarcastically:

"Let me see your pilot's license."

Zaneskki, a pilot, pulled out his airplane papers. The officer laughed, and let him go with a warning to slow down on the ground.

CHARGE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 7 — One anonymous finder of a lost purse has set a charge of slightly less than one per cent on honesty.

William S. Stevens reported to police that he lost $170 while playing $230 while watching a ball game.

A little later he reported that his wallet, containing $238, was stuffed in the letter slot of his door when he arrived home.

EXPERTS

SALAMANCA, N. Y., June 7 — Some passing motorists stopped to help a farmer put out a fire in his barn. They did their work so well the barn was saved as well as an adjoining house. Their efficiency was explained when the farmer found out his helpers were: Assistant Fire Chief Bernard Swanson and former Fire Chief C. J. Beatty of Jamestown, Fire Chief Donald Sales of Lakewood and George Blackstone of Lakewood, chief of the fire department at Bard college, who were returning from a fire chiefs' convention.

Lariat

GALLUP, N. M., June 7 (AP)—Nylon has invaded the wild west and cowboys and dudes alike are forming "nylon lines" these days in this western cattle country.

Stockings don't interest them, but they're anxious to pay $12 up for a 30-foot nylon lariat, purportedly strong enough to hang an elephant."

James W. Johnson, president of the Independent Voters' league, was present in the office at the time Watson made the threat and can verify the veracity of this statement, Howell said.

"J. L. Eberle, Republican state committeeman and attorney for a number of liquor and slot machine corporations was retained and two years ago he wrote me a discourteous letter regarding the alleged account," Howell said.

"This action is purely a matter to discredit me in the eyes of my fellow citizens and it is why men with courage and a good name fear to run for public office," the congressional aspirant said.

"I promise to go into every church and on every corner with a sound truck and strip the lid off the cesspool of foul political corruption naming names and verifying my statements with irrefutible evidence," Howell promised.

"I have just begun to fight. The big boys have tackled the wrong boy to blackmail this time!"

Candidate to Sue, Lift Lid On 'Cesspool'

Harold Howell, Boise, Democratic candidate for congressional nomination, [illegible] "would [illegible] of foul political corruption" and announced intentions of filing a $50,000 libel suit at Boise against two officials of the Maico Hearing Aid company, Inc.

Leland Watson, Minneapolis, president, and Ralph Watson, Los Angeles, western representative of the concern, were named as respective defendants.

HOWELL

Howell charges that the two Watsons had filed a Boise suit against him "in an effort to discredit me politically." The Maico company filed its suit in the third district court in Boise for $641.93, allegedly owed by Howell on a shipment of hearing aid appliances the company shipped in Dec. 19, 1942.

Howell claims that the company owes him an unpaid commission balance of $5257 and says that evidence is on file at the office of E. G. Elliott, Boise attorney who is seeking the state attorney general post.

Howell claims that the suit is "just one of the many dirty political tricks pulled in Idaho."

"The hand of Idaho's dirty politics has shown itself very plainly in a law suit entered against me, by men who threatened to ruin me politically because I took on a competitive line of merchandise," Howell said in a statement to the Times-News.

"While I was on a business trip in Ohio nearly three years ago Ralph Watson entered my Boise office and removed consigned equipment to the amount of over $400 leaving a receipt written on the back of a calling card," Howell charged. "Fortunately I retained this receipt. Ralph Watson informed my office manager that he would ruin me politically and asked who was a good Republican attorney."

Price Boosts May Increase Butter Output

The readjustment in ceiling prices for butterfat and milk announced Friday by the office of price administration may mean an increased production of butter in this area, Roy D. Smith, general manager of the Jerome cooperative creamery, told the Times-News.

"However, until we get the definite figures and the whole relationship of the new price ceilings coordinated it is hard to comment on the change," Smith declared.

The announcement from the OPA Friday stated that milk producers will get an increase of 40 cents per 100 pounds of milk, which would mean 10.5 cents a pound for butterfat based on its standard "3-5" test.

"We won't raise the retail price of milk until we receive official notification from the OPA," Alton Wood, manager of Nonna's dairy said. The retail price of milk was hiked one cent a quart under the order.

The exact ceiling increase on butter, ice cream and other dairy products was in doubt and Smith said that until these ceilings increases are specifically announced nothing definite as to whether an increase

Chief Justice Okay Certain

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP) — President Truman's choice of Fred M. Vinson for chief justice of the United States and of John W. Snyder for secretary of the treasury accompanied [illegible] especially speedy senate confirmation.

"These [illegible] Democratic senator [illegible] Johnson, D., Colo., told reporters. Others [illegible] concurred.

in profits by diverting production of butterfat to butter could be obtained.

Butter production throughout the country is curtailed because creameries are finding it moreo profitable to use milk and butterfat for the production of ice cream than butter.

The price ceiling on butter was increased 11 cents. This means that by diverting butterfat into butter that an additional half cent a pound could be made by the creamery.

The increase price to the farmer will not affect the general milk production this year, Smith said, although if the price continues at that rate more milk production may be expected next year.

Sedan Abandoned After Tree Crash; Stolen in Jerome

Stolen at 4 a.m. from Jerome, a 1937 sedan was wrecked 32 minutes later in Twin Falls, after which the occupant or occupants "bailed out" and disappeared.

The machine, owned by Alva Stevens, Jerome, was stolen off the street in the north side city, and at 4:32 a.m. Twin Falls city police received a report that a sedan had crashed into a tree in front of a home on Sixth street north just off the intersection with Addison.

Investigation disclosed that it was the same vehicle that was stolen in Jerome. The machine was badly damaged in the accident.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Purdy, Jerome, said Friday that the case is being investigated but that no arrests had been made.

The Hospital

No emergency beds were available at the Twin Falls county general hospital Friday.

Walter Day, jr., received his commission as second lieutenant in the marine corps at Annapolis graduation ceremonies Thursday evening. His mother, Mrs. Walter Day, and aunt, Miss Mary Owens, Filer, attended the ceremony. On June 10 he will marry Eileen Mitchell, Washington, D. C., at a military ceremony.

His sister, Mary Day, former WAVE, now employed in civil service by the navy at Chicago, attended her brother's graduation at Annapolis.

Sloat Chosen Secretary of Officer Unit

The official family of the Magic Valley Peace Officers association was completed Friday when Fred S. Craig, Gooding sheriff, announced appointment of Deputy A. L. Sloat, Gooding, as secretary for the ensuing year.

Sheriff Craig was elected president during a meeting of the peace officers group Thursday night at the Park hotel. This concluded the half-day session at which FBI officials and Deputy Sheriff Charles Parrott, Twin Falls, were principal speakers.

Discussing "Law Enforcement as a Profession," Deputy Parrott stressed the need for cooperation between the press, the public and law enforcement agencies and classed officers as being members of a profession, just as are attorneys or physicians.

He also compared the present with conditions that prevailed during the early 1920's and pointed out the added burden that service places upon law enforcement units.

Youth Hurt When Spraying Barrel Erupts in Face

Gene Randall, 18, New Plymouth, grandson of Mrs. George Decker, Twin Falls, suffered severe injuries and is still unconscious after a spray barrel exploded in his face. He was spraying trees on the farm of his parents.

Randall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Randall, was injured when too much pressure caused the eruption of the spray barrel. The bottom of the barrel struck the youth cutting a large gash in his right arm which required six stitches and a gash in his head.

Randall's brother, Norman, 8, who was the first to reach him, removed the barrel. He was rushed to a hospital in Ontario, Mrs. Rebecca Randall, paternal grandmother of the injured youth, also resides in Twin Falls.

soon as prices which may be paid to producers are adjusted to higher levels.

In Neighboring areas where OPA bases price ceilings on those existing in federal marketing areas. Prices will go up in those areas when the agriculture department boosts ceilings there.

PRODUCERS BENEFIT

BOISE, June 7.—An allowable increase of 10.5 cents per pound butterfat to producers in this area (south of Salmon river and Malheur county, Ore.) and a compensating increase of one cent per quart on fluid milk at wholesale and retail and one cent per pint boost on cream were announced this morning by Lloyd Bell, price executive for the Idaho OPA district, following receipt of official notice from Washington, D. C.

The price increases were effective one minute after midnight this morning, Bell said.

Bell explained that the ceiling price on standard and premium fluid milk is increased one cent per quart in glass and paper containers at retail and wholesale. Proportionate increases are allowable in other container sizes.

The ceiling on cream containing more than 16 per cent butterfat is up one cent per pint, at wholesale and retail.

At the producer level, the ceiling on market milk is raised 10.5 cents per pound butterfat.

Chocolate milk, buttermilk and other flavored milk drinks are increased one cent per quart, Bell said.

John R. Butler Oakley, Dies Here

John Randall Butler, 68, a resident of Oakley for 38 years, died of a heart attack Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Johnston, south of Twin Falls. He had been ill for the past two months.

Mr. Butler was born April 25, 1880, at Orderville, Utah, a son of William and Eliza Alexander Butler. He married Charlotte Hansen, Sept. 14, 1900, at the Manti, Utah, LDS temple. They resided at Tryple, Utah, until 1904, when they moved to Idaho, living at Sugar City until 1906, when they went to Oakley.

Mr. Butler was active in LDS activities, having served as counsellor to Bishop Fred Adams, Oakley. He also was a former city marshal at Oakley.

He was a construction contractor, having built the first canals from the Oakley dam, and having worked on the Murtaugh canals.

Two children preceded him in death. He is survived by his wife, Oakley; and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Thelma Nielson, Hailey; Mrs. Verda Johnston, Twin Falls; Wendell Butler, Rupert; Mrs. LaVon Adams, Mrs. Meredith Myers, Dewayne Butler, Dallas Butler and Lazar Butler, Oakley; 16 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, six sisters and three brothers.

Funeral services will be announced by the Payne mortuary, Burley.

Ownership of Industry Now Idaho "Issue"

O. Lee of Coeur d'Alene are candidates.

Also to be nominated are candidates for a full state ticket, including the governorship, and Idaho's two congressional seats.

Gossett's speech was broadcast from recordings by five Idaho radio stations.

The senator made no reference to an assertion by Taylor that Gossett sought a state legislative nomination on the Republican ticket in 1930 and supported Herbert Hoover in 1928.

Feature of tonight's campaigning is a public meeting at Boise sponsored by the Boise League of Women Voters.

Fourteen candidates for major offices have accepted invitations to participate, speaking on questions assigned in advance by the league.

Taylor continued his one-man tour, taking his campaign car into south central and southeastern Idaho. He plans to cast an absentee ballot at his home town, Pocatello, tomorrow and then will return to Boise for a windup rally on the steps of the state capitol Monday evening. He expects to leave by plane Monday night for Washington.

Gossett arranged for an airplane tour today of central Idaho. Flying in a chartered plane with A. A. Benish, former state aeronautics director, at the controls, he planned stops at Challis, Salmon, Orofino and Grangeville.

Weed Spraying to Start in West End

Monday or Tuesday the county noxious weed bureau will begin spraying in the west end of the county after work in the east end is completed, Director J. N. Grimes said Friday.

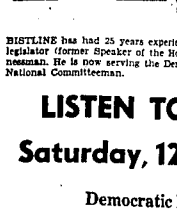

Since it is best for the bureau to move in sequence from place to place, Grimes urged farmers to phone in their spraying orders immediately so that plans could be made. The new sprayer is doing good work in control of noxious weeds, he said.

GOP 'Gang' at Boise Loves Gossett, Snaps Glen Taylor

By BOB LEERIGHT

Denying that he was in favor of socialising the country, Sen. Glen H. Taylor Thursday night rapped at the Idaho Daily Statesman and Sen. Charles C. Gossett after the junior senator had attacked Taylor in a radio broadcast.

"Gossett followed the Statesman's lead in misquoting me," Taylor told the Times-News. "I defy Gossett to point to any socialistic votes I've cast since I've been in the senate."

Senator Taylor is in Idaho actively campaigning for the election of George Donart, Senator Gossett's opposition in the Democratic primary.

"(Rep. Henry C.) Dworshak has told me that I was right when I said Gossett was a Republican," Taylor claimed. "The Boise GOP gang loves him and that same Boise group moved heaven and earth to prevent Dworshak from running for senate against Gossett," the senator said.

Taylor claimed the Statesman had deliberately written a misleading headline on a story to leave the impression that he was in favor of the government's taking over basic industries.

"All I said," Taylor declared, "was that if the people couldn't stand strikes that the only alternative was for the government to take over basic industries. I made no stand either way on the matter. I for one will not vote for any law to force a man at the point of a bayonet to work for private capital, but am willing to put up with strikes as a part of our collective bargaining system in a free economy."

In his speech at the Jefferson club banquet Taylor asserted that the "whole prosperity of the country hinges on labor and that if the laboring man has good wages, he'll have money to buy products and the farmer and businessman will profit."

He declared that "the big fellows want war with Russia and they fear communism," Taylor declared that there is no need to fear Russia.

"The Republican philosophy has been that if the rich man's dish is full some of it will overflow and the poor man will then get some of the crumbs," Taylor declared.

Senator Taylor spoke later at city park.

ATKINS NAMED PRESIDENT

Frank Atkins, Buhl, and Mrs. Nell Creed, Twin Falls, were unanimously elected president and vice-president of the Jefferson club at the annual banquet Thursday night at which six state and national candidates and Sen. Glen H. Taylor spoke.

Big industries are baiting the strikers in an attempt to force a wedge in the Democratic party, F. M. Bistline, Pocatello, candidate for second district congressman, told the group. He said that "Republicans know that it was the labor vote that elected Roosevelt in 1944 and they figure that by the strike weapon they can split labor and the administration."

"If the Republicans gain control of congress this fall they'll be able to stall all legislation and effectively throttle Truman's administration, like they did to Wilson in 1918," Bistline said.

Stands for CVA

Pete Leguineche, Boise attorney and another congressional aspirant, said that "I've been told it is political suicide to come to Twin Falls county and advocate the establishment of the Columbia Valley authority, but I stand for CVA."

He called upon voters not to cast their ballot for the man but for the issues involved. He stressed that CVA is not socialism but a "coordination of government agencies for control of the natural resources."

Leguineche rapped at N. V. Sharp, Filer, president of the Idaho State Reclamation association, saying that "I understand water rights. I was reared on a farm near Gooding and I've irrigated. I doubt if Sharp has."

Perry A. Nelson, Rockland, candidate for congress, said that if there is any one who wants to change our form of government they should be shipped out of the country and they'll soon come begging to get back into the country "not as a Democrat or Republican but as an American."

Nelson told the Times-News after the meeting that the CVA question was "above party politics."

Harold Howell, Boise, and former Twin Falls resident who is seeking the congressional post, said that the country should dedicate itself to the philosophy of Jefferson that the government is for the masses and not for the classes."

He said after the banquet that CVA would come eventually but that it must come from the people and that it was not for political candidates to take the lead in promoting such a move.

John Gardner, Hailey, candidate for state mine inspector, and Mrs. Maude Gosho Houston, lieutenant governor aspirant, also spoke. T. Malt Haily, state director of highways, represented Gov. Arnold M. Williams here and asserted that "by fall we will be able to drive from Twin Falls to Filer on a good wide road."

Jeffersonians Elect New County Leaders

"The unleashed power of the atom has changed everything save our modes of thinking," said Dr. Albert Einstein in an appeal for a fund of $200,000 to be used in a campaign to arouse the world to the fact that we are drifting "toward unparalleled catastrophe."

At first thought, it might seem that it would not be necessary to spend a six figure sum to arouse in mankind the basic emotion of fear. The literate world knows enough about the atomic bomb to be frightened of it. The possibilities of "unparalleled catastrophe" have been expounded endlessly.

And yet the history of the past 10 months makes it seem likely that Dr. Einstein and his distinguished colleagues who make up the emergency committee of atomic scientists would have difficulty in changing our modes of thinking even with 10 times $200,000.

Men fear the atomic bomb, to be sure. But they do not fear it as a present peril. Face to face with danger, men act instinctively to protect themselves. But, though the atomic bomb is with us now and as capable of being used today as it was 10 months ago, it has summoned up no widespread and instinctive demand for immediate defense.

Rather, most men seem to fear atomic power as they fear death—and that, at the moment, is all atomic power means. It means simultaneous death for thousands, perhaps millions, perhaps even for most of the human race. But it also means individual destruction. And that is probably how the majority think of it. "Will it kill us?"

Many of us—perhaps most of us—suffer the fortunate lack of logic that permits us to imagine that we can postpone death by postponing our thinking about it. By that very lack of logic we can strive more and enjoy more, perhaps, and avoid adding a great deal of morbid anxiety to this already anxious world.

But that lack of logic is one reason why it has taken mankind such a long and painful time to learn to protect itself from danger and death which are potential but not imminent. The healthy, vigorous human sees no need for a medical checkup. The motorist and the industrial worker know that danger lurks on the highway and in the machine. But the feeling that "it can't happen to me" is strong. Thus needless pain and death recur in spite of the increasing effort and accumulating wisdom of science and engineering.

Dr. Einstein and his colleagues plan a nationwide campaign "to let people know that a new type of thinking is essential if mankind is to survive." That, indeed, is a democratic approach. But it also may involve a longer process than the situation permits.

Might it not be better for the scientists to concentrate their efforts upon this and other governments, and upon the still unformed United Nations group which is to control atomic energy? It is at these high levels that the steps must be taken to save the world from the power which science has loosed and for which it feels an acute accusing responsibility. To change the mode of thinking among men at these high levels will be a hard enough task.

WHAT ABOUT OUR HIGHWAYS?

Granted that Idaho is a vacationists' paradise and that this state could well afford to advertise its scenic attractions and outdoor sports, those who are now encouraging such a publicity campaign should keep one thing in mind.

Our highways, for some unexplainable reason, are in such a deplorable condition that it would be foolish to encourage tourist traffic into Idaho at this time. It would make us the laughing stock of the country.

Tourists who have had occasion to drive through such nearby states as Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Utah cannot understand why Idaho, by comparison, presents such a network of no-good roads. These same tourists have observed that in spite of the condition of our roads, there seems to be no apparent effort to repair or rebuild them. Road machinery just isn't much in evidence and nearly everyone is wondering why.

So before we go too far in urging tourists to come to Idaho, we had better find out what has happened to our highway department. From all indications, it has been asleep.

An agriculture department spokesman says hens that aren't producing an egg every other day should be eaten. Either they lay for us—or we'll lay for them.

Some manufacturers say the shortage of material for pockets is holding up suit manufacture. Maybe, after paying for a suit, we won't need the pockets.

A California fishing boat captain returned to his job on his 80th birthday, after 20 years in retirement. Long time no sea!

Coffee originated in Africa—and some of it is still weak from the long trip.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WINNING—President Truman's recent tastes of power in handling domestic strikes and world affairs of vast import have transformed him completely from the mild, modest and middle-of-the-road man that he was when he moved into the White House almost 14 months ago. He has become tough and aggressive, making his own decisions, and he likes his new role.

Ray Tucker

Although the new dealers are deserting him in droves, he believes that he is following in Roosevelt an tradition. Regardless of labor leaders' attacks and their political implications, he is gratified by the general reaction to his seizure of the coal mines and his threat to operate the railroads and shipping with army and navy personnel, if need be.

He feels that he has hit a winning number!

ROOSEVELTIAN—It was he, and not Secretary James F. Byrnes alone, who decided to fight a finish, diplomatic war with Russia. He not only permitted but inspired Secretary Fred M. Vinson and others to intimate that under certain circumstances the U. S. would form a political-economic alliance with Britain to thwart or at least restrict Moscow's expansion in Europe, the Balkans and the far east.

Despite state department twinges, he adopted the army-navy program for a military integration of personnel and weapons with Canada and the South American republics.

His manner toward capitol hill spokesmen, labor bosses, management's representatives and the press has become Roosevelt ian. He used to listen to White House visitors. Now he "tells" them in short, crisp and authoritative language.

He exhibited almost a Roosevelt ian resentment against and disdain for his enemies when, in commenting on the hostile reaction to his rail strike settlement and emergency labor bill, he said:

"When the President of the United States, by one speech, can get Claude Pepper and Bob Taft, the 'Communist Daily Worker' and the 'Wall Street Journal' in accord, the world is perfectly safe."

Mr. Truman—the new Truman—is now "telling 'em!"

ASSET—President Truman has one great asset which only a few of his recent predecessors, notably Franklin D. Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge, have possessed.

When he quits his circular office in the business wing of the White House for the day or night, he closes his mind to all official worries. He can relax and forget. He can also be natural. He seems to have a fatalistic complex.

Time and again his publicity-minded aides have begged him not to pose for "corny pictures," not to go gallivanting around the country or down the Potomac river in his yacht, when crises befell the nation.

Similarly, Mr. Coolidge's advisers urged him not to let the photographers snap him greeting beauty winners, wearing an Indian costume and campaigning with Henry Ford, the late Charles Edison and other magnates of the middle twenties. But Mr. Truman, like the Vermonter, spurned the advice.

FACT—Mr. Truman apparently—and sincerely—seeks to give the impression that, although he is no genius and did not want the presidential assignment, he is trying to do the best he can for the American people.

Despite some hostility to his handling of the railroad strike, it is a historical fact that he was braving and defying his most loyal supporters in Missouri and elsewhere. He would not have been renominated in 1940 had it not been for their help, which means that he would never have become President of the United States.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

NORTHERN POTATOES

It is time that south Idaho began casting about for something new to crow about, according to the report that the lesser known — but superior for some uses—north Idaho potato is about to gain recognition. The Netted Gem of the south might have to give way to the Katahdins and Chippewas of the north.

Judging from a report prepared by Dr. Paul Eke, head of the agricultural economics department at the University of Idaho, which was presented to Tom Cunning, manager of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce, a certain Dr. White, a nutritionist, discovered during a series of experiments that the Netted Gem of the southland were 77 to 80 per cent water, which by normal standards could be interpreted to mean "water logged." And Dr. White went on to say that the northern Idaho tubers were known to be mealy and fluffy and that the Chippewas and Katahdins produce larger yields.

These experiments and the possibility that a Portland manufacturer is considering establishing a wafer factory in this area, should send cold chills through the southland, for they stand in danger of having their potato heaven collapse at their feet.

Naturally, south Idaho must, in the event of the bottom falling out of its potato market, turn to producing something that will replace the spud which has been glorified in song and story these many years. By way of suggestion, it might be that something could be done with sage brush — a new kind of tea, perhaps—and that is a product on which south Idaho has a virtual monopoly and need not fear the north.—Lewiston Tribune.

WHAT WE NEED IS MORE

Once again luscious-looking, plump strawberries smile at the shopper and tug at his purse-strings. Thus arise perennial issues of moment which have puzzled enthusiasts of Genus Fragaria from time immemorial.

Should strawberries be rinsed to remove stray grains of sand, or served unwashed to bring out their sweet fragrance? How elusive and fleeting is that fragrance!

Which is the ultimate: strawberries in shortcake, or served with ice cream, or simply with sugar and cream? Or in solitary grandeur? For those choosing the latter comes the corollary question: Are strawberries superior eaten whole, or crushed?

These are piquant questions. Nevertheless, it is better for them to remain questions than to stir up serious polemics or controversy. On one thing the whole world surely will agree: there certainly ought to be a big increase in the strawberry output on this planet. None but those in the upper brackets can afford them very often at their present price level.—Christian Science Monitor.

TWIN FALLS STEPS OUT

Twin Falls, the bustling capital of south central Idaho, one of the cities Nampa speaks in population during the thirties, seems determined to get right up into the front row of Gem state progress if municipal improvements can turn the trick.

Twin Falls voters a few days ago approved a $750,000 bond issue, a sum we imagine would horrify folks if it were asked here. Included was $150,000 for a city hall, $200,000 for storm sewers, $150,000 for expanded water mains and $250,000 for an airport.

The city hall vote was the closest, the project getting only three more than the two thirds vote required. The vote of 1,781 was considered heavy for a special election.

Twin Falls people are to be admired for their faith in their city, which we believe is fully justified, and their determination to go forward.

Nampa will probably have to bond before long for water mains, sewers and a disposal plant. We can make the old city hall do for a while and we may never need an airport as much as Twin Falls. Twin Falls' position is different there. She has only branch line rail service and is far enough from other major stops to have a chance for main line air passenger service.—Nampa Free Press.

WE'RE TRYING TO RIVAL LOS ANGELES

Dear Potsie:

Four miles north of Malta on U. S. 30, halfway between Malta and Dunbome, there is a sign reading—

"You're now entering Twin Falls."

Don't you think you fellows are spreading out a little too much? And what will the folks at Burley think of your invading their bailiwick?

SLICKIES MAYBE

We received a little communication from the "Independent Women's Votes league," boosting a certain candidate for congress. We won't mention the gent's name because if we do we'll have fallen smack into the trap somebody was setting by addressing the card to Pot Shots. But what we're inclined to wonder is this: in just how many cases do the postoffice box addresses given by shady leagues, clubs, committees, etc., happen to be the p. o. box numbers of the candidate himself?

THE TROUT PLOT THICKENS

Remember the T-N research department's photo of the trout with the overshot under-jaw? Or, if you prefer, the undershot upper-jaw?

Now comes John Horejs, 15, 260 Filer avenue, with another just like the one that Boyd Thielen caught. Caught it at Salmon dam, where Thielen got his. Used worms and a spinner.

This is getting serious. One overslung under-jaw (or undershung etc.) trout isn't so bad. But two in quick succession, eh. We feel the research department must look into this further. It might be a plot against fishermen, whose chances will be reduced 50 per cent if trout start going around with no upper jaw to sink onto a hook.

What give . . . ?

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

BOB HOPE

Father Time has just given me his annual boot along life's road. I had a birthday. I'm not saying which birthday until I'm positive congress has decided to draft us teen-agers.

Bob Hope

Some actors say they celebrate their birthdays, but I'm going to be truthful. I hid under the bed and held my breath until past noon . . . hoping it would go away. But I had a typical Hollywood birthday . . . all my friends forgot it . . . and all my enemies remembered it.

I'm not saying performers are jealous of each other's ages, but I could tell which of the cards I received were from other actors. They all said, "Happy Birthday . . . and many more of them . . . soon!"

Dottie Lamour gave me a congratulatory kiss. All the other actresses around the studio would have done the same, but, by the time Dottie had revived me, it was too late.

My relatives all gave me nice, expensive presents. In fact, they're so expensive I don't know how I'll ever be able to pay for them.

I got a lot of cards for my birthday. One was chocolate, one was angel food, and the rest were soap.

Paramount gave me a new contract. Well, it's practically new. They sent the old one out and had my tear stains dry-cleaned out. "The studio had planned to give me the usual cake with a candle for each year, but they couldn't afford it. It wasn't that the candles cost so much . . . but when he heard about it, the man from Lloyd's jumped in and upped the fire insurance rates.

U. of I. Grant By 4 Former Burley Men

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, June 7 — Four brothers, Darlin, Barnes, Tinn and Austin Davis, formerly of Burley and now associated with the Winn and Lovell Grocery company, a large chain of stores in Florida, will make an annual grant of $600 to be awarded to an outstanding student in the school of business each year at the University of Idaho, President Harrison C. Dale has announced.

In his letter to President Dale, A. D. Davis, 1929 Idaho graduate and now president of the Florida company, indicated that he and his brothers, all former students, were interested in the institution's welfare. The Davis brothers have taken several University of Idaho graduates into their employ in recent years.

Several other gifts to the university were accepted by the board of regents at the recent meeting.

For the promotion of 4-H club work in the state, a $1,000 grant was accepted from the Sears Roebuck foundation. Of this President Dale indicated, $800 will defray the expenses of state 4-H leaders to the annual 4-H short course at the university, June 10 to 15. Remaining $200 will finance local 4-H recognition banquets, at which individuals who have contributed to the progress of the youth movement will be honored.

Accepted from the American Dairy association was a grant of $600 for research in the field of dairying. The board also accepted from John L. Toevs, agricultural graduate in the class of 1924, and retiring superintendent of the Aberdeen branch experiment station, and Mrs. Toevs, a gift of 25 acres of land adjacent to the experimental farm.

Oris Don Cryder Ex-Marine Head

Oris D. (Don) Cryder was elected commandant of the Twin Falls detachment of the Marine Corps league at its charter meeting Thursday night at the Idaho Power company here.

Other leaders named were Horace R. (Bob) Stradley, vice-commandant; Clayton Toler, judge advocate; Howard E. Browne, chaplain; S/Sgt. Ted Letendre, sergeant-at-arms, and Bill Nelson, adjutant-paymaster.

They and the following Twin Falls ex-marines were designated as charter members: Robert V. Wildman, James E. Pennock, Jr., Eugene E. Hall, Homer F. Hall, Lloyd O. Hann, Joseph Kubik, William (Brice) Evans, Charles E. Gilb, Archie F. Brown, James L. Higgins, Gaylord Toler and Harry L. Stradley.

The detachment estimates there are 200 former marines in this area eligible for membership. Former members of the WMC women's reserve are eligible for membership in the detachment, it was announced.

Wednesday night was designated for weekly meetings, which commence at 8 p. m. at the Idaho Power company auditorium. The officers elected will serve until November.

Bob Stradley heads the membership committee, and Wildman was named chairman of a committee charged with securing a permanent meeting place for the group.

National dues of $1.50 entitle members to the U. S. Bulletin, national publication of the league.

Plans also were discussed regarding the formation of an auxiliary for mothers, wives and sisters of discharged marines, marines killed in action, and marines on active duty.

Murtaugh Farmer Wins Blue Ribbon

One Twin Falls county contestant, Frank Morrison, Murtaugh, won a blue ribbon on his shorthorn steer which was graded choice at the inter-mountain junior fat stock show at Salt Lake City, Jay G. Garner, county club agent, said Thursday.

Morrison also placed third in the 4-H division, fitting and showing. The events were held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The stock show was the largest junior show ever held in the United States, Garner said.

Registration to Close Saturday

Persons who desire to vote in the primary election June 11 must register by Saturday, June 8, Charles Bulles, county auditor, said Thursday.

Registration may be made at precinct registrars throughout the county until 9 p. m. Saturday.

Bulles said his office will remain open until 5 p. m. Saturday to receive absentee ballots. Monday, June 10, is the deadline to receive absentee votes.

Bulles said he will deliver ballots to shut-ins or other voters who desire to cast absentee ballots for the primary.

FERTILIZER DISTRIBUTED

POCATELLO, June 7 (AP) — The Simplot Fertilizer company plant at Pocatello has distributed approximately 22,000 tons of phosphate fertilizer to Idaho farmers this season, sales manager Ernest C. Hansen said today. The amount is sufficient to fertilize 154,000 acres of land.

Full Quota in Draft May Be Sent to Boise

The June call is for 20 registrants, Joe E. Roberts, clerk of Twin Falls county selective service board No. 1, said Thursday. It will be the 76th call to be answered by the local board.

The group will report June 18 at Boise for pre-induction physical examinations. So far, two registrants have been reclassified from 4-A to 1-A, and 13 additional registrants from 4-A have been selected to go to Boise.

"No doubt the board will be able to secure the full 20 registrants," said Roberts.

Under latest rulings, 4-A registrants do not have to be reclassified to 1-A in order to take pre-induction tests. If the board rules they are physically qualified, non-fathers and 26 through 29, they may be sent to Boise.

Loot From Buhl Break-in Seized

BUHL, June 7—All loot with the exception of $11.03 in cash, has been recovered following a break-in at the Gem State Motor company, police said Thursday.

A hydraulic jack, 6 spinner knobs, 6 flashlights and a portable radio were found on top of a bathhouse at the city park, police said.

A cash register was rifled of $11.03 in the burglary Tuesday morning.

BETTER LIVING

Take your kitchen:

Add: one electric range
one electric refrigerator
one automatic electric water heater

Season with an electric toaster, electric mixer, a coffeemaker and an electric roaster. This serves a family of any size with convenience, economy and ease.

After every meal an automatic electric dishwasher is recommended.

Of course all these things are not readily available as yet, but we hope it won't be long to wait—and you know the wait will be well worth it.

So start planning now to let Reddy Kilowatt, your electrical servant, do your kitchen work—he works so hard and his services cost so little.

India Moslems Vote to Take British Plan

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7—Indian Moslems appear to have withdrawn the key log from the political jam which has been choking the current toward independence.

When the Moslem league council in New Delhi voted overwhelmingly to approve the British unity plan, they removed the chief internal opposition — themselves — to a step which is designed to steer India away from possible civil war.

Only the day before, the league's fiery president, Mohamed Ali Jinnah, had continued his insistence upon "pakistan," the pet Moslem project of a separate Moslem state.

As this involved two distinct Moslem areas, one in the northeast and another farther west, all other elements in India had held out against it.

Jinnah said the British plan was an effort to appease the Hindus, whose leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi, approves it.

Perhaps significantly, Jinnah also said that the quickest way to agreement on Indian independence was for both the British and the Hindus to "accept pakistan," and that Moslem India "will not rest" until it is achieved.

Superficially this looks like Jinnah held out to the last and then was outvoted by his own league council. But only time will tell the real meaning of what happened.

It may be helpful to remember that there are rich Moslems as well as poor ones in India, and that they would lose as much personally in a civil war as anyone else.

By putting its okay now on the British plans for transition to Indian independence, the Moslem league apparently does not abandon future claims for pakistan. The league's retreat may be tactical rather than a change in strategic aim.

Forced Landing; Pilot Cuts Chin And Wife Faints

HAILEY, June 7 — When the sparkplug in the J-3 Piper plane in which Lonnie Linderman was taking off from the Hailey flying field blew out, forcing him to land, it was not the plane nor the pilot's cut chin which attracted the attention.

Mrs. Linderman, an expectant mother, heard of the mishap and hurried to the field. Seeing blood streaming from her husband's chin, she fell in a faint which lasted 10 minutes.

Earl Allen, instructor for the Reeder Flying service, Twin Falls, who was at the field, said that damage to the plane was estimated at $700. One wing was badly damaged.

The pilot received only minor cuts and bruises.

At 16, He Has Business of His Own

* * * * * * * *

This is Bill Watts, Twin Falls youth, who is operating his own business and liking it at the age of 16. At top, he's closing a sale with Mrs. Gifford E. Shaffer, Twin Falls, and at left Bill puts the finishing touches on dry flies displayed atop a large mirror. He ties the flies in his spare time. (Photos by John Brosnan-staff engravings)

Business Purchaser Revealed As Twin Falls Youth, Only 16

By JOHN BROSNAN

A news item came in the other day that William J. Watts, Twin Falls, had purchased Hanlon's Trading Post in Jerome. As the editor scanned it, his eyes widened, for it mentioned that the purchaser was 16 years old.

"That," said the editor, "is something."

We set out to learn more about it, and the complete story is just as unusual as it sounds.

Bill Watts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Watts, Twin Falls, and he has just completed his sophomore year in high school. Despite his youth, he displays a maturity of outlook and ability to deal with people that would do credit to many a college graduate. At the same time, he hasn't lost the enthusiasm and candor of youth.

The Trading Post is just what the name implies, and it serves as a meeting place for supply and demand of more items than you can shake a stick at. It is just north of the center of Jerome, and throughout the day cars pull up to the Trading Post bearing persons trying to find some item of merchandise not available elsewhere or just to look around.

"As rapidly as possible, we're changing the name over to Bill's Trading Post," the youthful operator observed when asked if the name were still the same.

Bill, who has been in possession for about two and a half weeks, keeps his own records on all transactions, the largest of which has been the sale of an icebox. At present there's a deal cooking on a piano, the sale of which would top the icebox transaction.

The ways of commerce are not entirely alien to Bill, as he assisted his mother in operation of a weekly newspaper at Council, Ida., for one summer. At present, he's planning on the Trading Post as a summer venture and will resume his studies next fall as a junior. Although disposition of the business at that time is "still quite a ways off," in Bill's words, he contemplates leasing it to someone for the winter months.

Bill is not quite sure, but he believes he will enter business "when he grows up." He seemed rather concerned about the fact that he wasn't just sure what his chosen field would be and seemed much relieved when the writer told him that lots of people much older than he aren't too sure what they want to do.

Like many another businessman, Bill commutes between Twin Falls and Jerome daily, driving over in the morning and back in the evening.

As an example of the type of transaction he carries on, at the time the writer arrived Bill just finished buying a brand new pair of boots, which were immediately put up for sale. The reason the seller wanted to part with them was that, after buying the boots, he had injured one foot, which made it impossible for him to wear the pair. Thus the sale.

Just a few of the countless items which Bill handles include: fruit caps, storage batteries, chairs of nearly every age, build and variety, a set of law books, a piano, pressure cooker, mattresses, a sewing machine, tables, a bicycle, couches, dishes and other utensils, antiques, pictures, camping supplies, lanterns, dressers, radios, writing desks (temporarily used in the office, but can be sold), a complete radio repair kit, shovels and similar tools, a cream separator, a .22 rifle, pulleys, window shades and cowbells.

Oh yes! In his spare time, Bill ties dry flies for trout fishing—"made to order."

Delay Looms In Tests for "Horse Meat"

RUPERT, June 7 — Intimations that there would be considerable delay in obtaining a report from the state health department on samples of hamburger allegedly containing horse meat was expressed today by Sheriff Donald M. Hawkes.

Hawkes said that the state health department was having to send away for supplies to test the hamburger and that there may be some delay.

Walter Toevs, Minidoka county rancher, charged with horse stealing will be arraigned June 11 in the court of Thomas Blacker, Minidoka county probate judge. Toevs has posted $1,500 bond.

No date has been set for the arraignment of A. D. Garde, Burley meat packer, who posted $200 bond on a misdemeanor charge of selling hamburger adulterated with horse meat. His case will come up in the court of Judge Henry W. Tucker, Cassia county probate judge.

Both men were arrested by Ronald M. Hawkes, Minidoka county sheriff, and Saul H. Clark, Cassia county sheriff, following a joint investigation into the sale of horse meat in hamburgers.

Herschel Klaas, Filer Engineer, Back in Civvies

FILER, June 7 — A Magic Valley naval officer who before the war designed light farms used for flood control in the Willamette valley, has returned to civilian life after 37 months in the service.

Lieut. Herschel V. Klaas, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Klaas, Filer, is now employed with the army engineers in Portland, Ore.

Receiving his master's degree in 1939 at the University of Idaho, Klaas later experimented with the use of alcohol as motor fuel. He also experimented in the field of frozen foods. Before becoming attached to the army engineers he was affiliated with the farm security association.

Among other of the naval officers engineering feats are the designing of a 30,000,000 gallon reservoir at Medford, Ore., construction of bridges, roads and drainage systems.

He joined the navy in February, 1943, and was attached to the training staff of the construction battalion center at Portland, Ore. Seven battalions later he did experimental work at the naval aircraft factory at Philadelphia on the catapult and arresting gear.

Air Trips to Fishing Spots Open June 15

HAGERMAN, June 7—Opening of charter airplane service to the middle fork of the Salmon river and other hunting and fishing areas, in Idaho's primitive area will be held about June 15, Delbert Clampitt, owner of the Thousand Springs air park announced Wednesday.

A Ryan monoplane "I" Fairchild plane from Texas was flown into the Thousand Springs park early this week by Lamoine R. Stevens, airport manager. The plane is being remodeled and upholstered seats are being installed.

Seaplane Base

Arrival of seaplanes is expected soon and a seaplane base is being set up on the river to accommodate landings of the craft, Clampitt said. With the arrival of the seaplanes the concern will be able to fly fishermen to any mountain lake in central Idaho and land on the water.

Clampitt said that salmon fishing on the Salmon river would begin the latter part of June and that round trip air flights would be made regularly to take fishermen.

Building Hangar

Construction work on a new hangar 50 feet by 120 feet is nearing completion. It will have showrooms for aircraft and storage and maintenance facilities. The service station and coffee shop at the springs are also nearing completion.

A new Clintercraft inboard motor runabout has been delivered and a 20-foot boat has been shipped. The new boat will be used for demonstration purposes only and to take sightseers on trips.

Sightseeing aerial trips over Magic Valley and the Snake river canyon also are being planned for the seven-passenger plane, Clampitt said.

Garner to Leave For Challis Job As County Agent

Jay G. Garner, county club agent since Feb. 25, will leave Saturday for Challis to take over the job as Custer county agent, it was announced here Friday.

W. G. (Bill) Priest has arrived in Twin Falls and probably will replace Garner. His appointment is still subject to approval of the county commissioners.

Garner will meet A. E. Duke, district agent for southeastern Idaho, in Blackfoot Monday and will go to Challis to set up the new office. Custer county has never had a county agent before.

Priest, a native of Shelley, was graduated from the University of Idaho in June, 1946, after serving 3½ years in the army. He is married and has two children.

Cruelty Charged In Divorce Case

Two suits for divorce were filed Thursday afternoon in district court here. Cruelty was charged by each complainant.

Elva June Clements filed an action against William R. Clements, who is with the armed forces at Yokohama, Japan. They married July 14, 1945, at a place not designated in the complaint. Her attorney is J. W. Taylor.

John Smart asked custody of a son, 4, and a daughter, 2, in his suit against Ruth Smart. They married Oct. 7, 1945, at Maryville, Mo. His attorney is F. C. Shenberger.

Area Women Hurt As Two Trains Crash

LA GRANDE, Ore., June 7 (AP)—Buhl and Wendell, Ida., women were among passengers treated for minor cuts and bruises as result of the crash of the Union Pacific streamliner "City of Portland" and the eastbound "Idahoan" 12 miles east of here yesterday.

The women were Mrs. Fred Chappell, Buhl, and Margaret Figenbaum, Wendell.

A brakeman died in the crash.

Railroad officials began an immediate inquiry into why the "Idahoan" failed to take a siding to permit the "City of Portland" to pass.

He declined to elaborate.

The streamliner, out of Chicago, was waiting on the mainline for the eastbound train. At 3:08 p.m. PST, with its brakes screaming, the Idahoan crashed into the other locomotive, survivors were told.

Only the helper locomotive on the eastbound train was badly damaged. There was a service delay of about seven hours.

The Idahoan was running six minutes late. The train met 682.5 feet beyond the switchpoint where the Idahoan should have entered the siding.

The streamliner, standing still with brakes set, was pushed back some 50 feet. The speed of the Idahoan was estimated at 15 miles an hour.

Denture Needn't Change the Face, Expert Declares

BOISE, June 7 (AP)—Idaho dentists were advised by a midwestern dental expert to educate the public on the ability of dentists to take advantage of new methods and the latest scientific developments.

Dr. Carl O. Boucher, head of the dentistry and prosthetic division of education at Ohio State university, said that "it is entirely possible now for a patient to have his teeth removed and replaced with immediate dentures.

"Dentures do not have to change the facial appearance of patients."

Dr. Boucher spoke at the annual convention of the Idaho State Dental association, which concludes today. Dr. W. F. Gigray of Caldwell, association president, welcomed the 80 dentists attending.

4 Boiseans Held on Intoxication Charge

The party must have gotten a little rough—at least all four of the participants wound up in the Twin Falls city jail.

Between 8:30 and 8:30 p.m. Thursday city police arrested four Boise residents, whom they described as being "members of the same group," and booked them on charges of intoxication. Those being held pending arraignment in police court are Slade Nagel, Leray Huff, Bill Hardisty and George Stone.

Christian Church Buys Parsonage

The purchase of a new parsonage has been authorized by the board of trustees of the First Christian church of Twin Falls. The Orr Chapman home, 119 Seventh avenue east, has been purchased as a residence for the Rev. Mark O. Cronenberger and his family.

The old parsonage is situated at 127 Seventh avenue east. It was the former Perrine residence and has been the parsonage since 1929 when the church was built. The Cronenberger family will take possession of the new parsonage as soon as a purchaser is found for their present residence.

Pentecostal Meeting Postponed One Week

The date for the monthly fellowship meeting for this district of the Pentecostal church has been postponed from June 12 to June 19 at Idaho Falls.

There will be a Wednesday night Bible study and prayer meeting at the First Pentecostal church, Twin Falls, June 12, because of the postponement of the fellowship meeting.

The services of the Idaho Falls session will be at 2:30 p. m., 7 p. m. and at 8 p. m. evangelistic service.

District Scouts Set New Camps Record for May

An all-time Boy Scout camping record was shattered in May as 1,064 Scouts camped out during the month, Dewitt R. Young, Twin Falls district camping chairman announced Friday.

Troop 67 led by George Parks, Scoutmaster, topped the troops with six nights of camping during the month, including the camporee at Nateetah May 10 and 11. Troop 60, led by Mackey E. Brown, and troop 43, led by Raymond L. Budweski, Kimberly, each camped out five times including the camporee.

A total of 635 Scouts attended camporees during the month and 429 boys participated in individual troop campings.

Herbert R. West, Scout executive, said that the camping and activities chairman, J. A. Keith, Shoshone, has set a goal for each Scout in the Snake river area council to camp out at least 10 nights during the summer.

A total of 65 camping nights were posted by troop 67 exclusive of the camporee and 64 camping nights were achieved by troop 60.

Other high troops in the area were troop 66, Twin Falls, and troop 30, Filer.

Quarterly Income Tax Due June 15

Quarterly federal income tax payments are due in the collector's office June 15, Cecil A. Plust, deputy collector of internal revenue, reminded taxpayers Friday.

Plust said that statements are being sent to all taxpayers who have not paid the full amount of tax on their estimated 1946 income. He reminded taxpayers that one-half the total tax must be paid by June 15.

"Anyone starting in business or has a source of income in which no tax is being withheld must file an estimate for 1946 by June 15 if it has not been filed already," the deputy collector said. "Any initial estimate at this time must be accompanied by half the estimated tax."

Anyone who has an estimated gross income of $500 of which over $100 is not subject to withholding tax must file.

Plust reminded taxpayers in this area that their payments should be addressed to the "collector of internal revenue, Boise, Idaho." He said that payments should not be sent to his office as it entails extra clerical work to forward them to Boise.

He announced that all allotments under the GI bill of rights are nontaxable, including educational allotments and those for on-the-job training.

Indiana Tourist Passes in Burley

BURLEY, June 7—Mrs. Laura K. Ritzel, 71, Princeton, Ind., died this morning in a Burley auto court of a heart attack while she and her son, D. F. Ritzel, and his wife were moving to Klamath Falls, Ore.

She was born May 19, 1869, in Princeton, Ind., and is survived by her son.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday in the Payne mortuary chapel with the Rev. Martin Crabb officiating. Burial will be in the Burley cemetery.

A. Hamer Reiser Speaks to LDS

A. Hamer Reiser, Salt Lake City, member of the general superintendency of LDS Sunday schools, will be the speaker at the first ward sacrament meeting beginning at 8 p. m. Sunday in the chapel and the public is invited.

He will visit Sunday his daughter and son-in-law, Bishop and Mrs. Mitchell W. Hunt, Jr. Accompanying the visitor will be his wife and several of their children. He is chairman of the 1947 centennial celebration planned for the entire church.

Ty Cobb Acutely Sick in Michigan

DETROIT, June 7 (AP)—Ty Cobb, the former baseball star, was in a hospital here today for treatment of what his physician described as acute tracheal bronchitis.

Cobb, 59, became ill at his hotel last night.

Dr. Burt R. Shurly said Cobb's condition was "serious" but that treatment should "fix him up" within a few days.

"After all Ty is a pretty touch customer and he's in excellent physical condition," said Dr. Shurly, an old friend of the former Detroit Tiger star.

Cobb, who lives in California, has been in Detroit for the automotive golden jubilee.

Plan for July 4

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors at their noon meeting Friday discussed July 4 plans and decided that nominations for the chamber-sponsored contestant for rodeo queen should be submitted at the chamber office. The board will choose the candidate probably next Friday.

Would Be Thieves Only Break Glass

The thief or thieves who attempted to enter the car of Elmer E. Bellinger, Crane, Ore., while it was parked in Twin Falls, did a crude job, but apparently succeeded only in scaring the machine.

Bellinger reported to Twin Falls city police that, while the vehicle was in a downtown parking lot, all the glass on the right side was broken out between 9 p. m. Thursday and midnight.

Odd Fellows Set July Picnic Date

Sunday, July 7, has been set as the date for the reumption of the annual potluck picnic of the Odd Fellows lodges of Magic Valley, it was announced Friday.

Members and friends will come from lodges at Rupert, Burley, Eden, Hazelton, Jerome, Twin Falls, Filer, and Buhl. The picnics were not held during the war.

The Filer fairgrounds has been mentioned as a possible site for the event, depending on whether the grounds will be available on that date.

The initiatory degree was conferred on George E. Goff at a meeting of the Twin Falls lodge Thursday night. Ed E. McNee, Eden, was a visitor.

More Lamb Pools Slated for June

Two more lamb pools were scheduled at a meeting of the Twin Falls livestock marketing association Thursday night, County Agent Jack P. Smith said Friday.

The next pool was set for June 14 and will be limited to a shipment of brand sheep. Each man must brand the sheep he intends for shipment. Listings for the pool must be in the county agent's office by June 12.

The second pool will be for fat lambs and sorted ewes. It is scheduled for June 21. Both pools will also be open for any yearlings.

Too Many Thefts, He Tells Police

Three cases of thefts from his car in three weeks were too much for H. Bostrom, 276 Polk street, who finally took his troubles to the Twin Falls police.

A blanket was taken the first time, a camera the second time and tools were taken the third time he reported. Police are investigating the losses.

GARAGE-HOME

A footnote on the housing shortage was the application of Robert E. Amande to construct a double garage in the 600 block of Locust street for use as temporary living quarters. Cost of the 24 by 24-foot structure will be $1,800.

Age Limit Lower For Forest Work

Federal regulations have recently been changed so that the forest service may now employ 17-year-old youths in blister rust control work, Merlin D. Stock, district forest ranger, announced last Thursday.

Earlier in the spring numerous requests were received for work in the area, Stock said, but only boys over 18 could be employed. He urged that only boys who are physically capable of hard labor should apply.

Detailed information can be obtained from the U. S. employment office in Twin Falls, or writing to the forest supervisor at the following stations: Kaniksu national forest, Sandpoint; St. Joe national forest, St. Maries; Coeur d'Alene national forest, Coeur d'Alene, and Clearwater national forest, Orofino.

Save Flour

Eggs, now in seasonal abundance may be used in various ways in cooking to spare flour, Florence Schultz, county home demonstration agent, said before she left for Boise for a home demonstration agent training course and the University of Idaho short course for 4-H club members.

Wherever egg is used it adds color and richness as well as mineral and protein value to the dish, she said.

Eggs may be used to thicken some gravies and sauces in which flour ordinarily is used. Two precautions must be taken to prevent the egg from curdling rather than thickening, she said. The first is to cook at low heat; a simmering temperature preferred. The second is to pour a little of the hot mixture into the beaten egg first and then add this mixture to the rest of the hot liquid.

A clear, slightly thick gravy for chicken stew may be made by adding a little of the hot chicken broth to well-beaten egg and then stirring the mixture into the remainder of the broth, she pointed out as an example. Never hold the gravy over direct heat after the egg has been added, Miss Schultz warned.

An unsweetened soft custard, milk thickened with egg and seasoned with salt, makes an appetizing sauce for fresh vegetables in place of white sauce. Even in white sauce, egg may be used to conserve some flour, she declared.

Another place where egg may be used to thicken sauce is in "boiled" salad dressing, popular these days because it uses less fat or oil than some other dressings.

"Although a thick white sauce is preferred for binding together the ingredients of meat loaf, meat patties and similar mixtures, eggs may be used successfully provided the meat is cooked at medium rather than high temperatures," Miss Schultz said.

Instead of macaroni or spaghetti—flour products—egg noodles may be used to give thin soup some "substance," she pointed out.

Just before the soup is ready to serve and while it is still simmering, pour in beaten egg gradually. The egg cooks in attractive yellow strands immediately on coming in contact with the hot soup, she said.

Pep-Bartolo Match Friday Night to Clear up Feather Crown First of June Title Battles

Willie Pep . . . battles to clear title.

By NED BROWN

NEW YORK, June 7 (NEA) — The 15-round fight between Willie Pep and Sal Bartolo for the featherweight championship at Madison Square garden on this evening makes Eddie Gardner's fabled two-headed pitcher look like the Heads-or-tails man in comparison.

The bout features two featherweight champions and the same number of challengers. They met twice before so they are really fighting for no reason at all.

Sal Bartolo

Pep — real name Papaleo—is the 126-pound king so far as the New York Boxing commission is concerned, while the Boston Italian reigns the division according to the National Boxing association.

Pep, the Hartford Italian, is 24, Bartolo five years older. They are identical in height at 5-5.

Pep, beaten only once—by Sammy Angott, then lightweight champion, in an above-the-weight match—in 95 ring battles through six years of campaigning, rules favorite at 5 to 8.

Pep is the only boxing champion to serve in both the navy and the army in World war II.

Pep is a clever stylist, adept in the fine points of the game. Bartolo is a rushing, battering slugger, known in the parlance of the ring as a club fighter. Their styles make for a good fight.

Blandly ignoring Pep's victories over Bartolo, the NBA officially designated the Hub thumper champion when he beat Phil Terranova in a 15-rounder in Beantown, March 19, 1944.

Unless it's a draw, Friday night's contest will settle the last of the double-headed championships which have made a joke of boxing ever since the advent of the NBA.

Originally Pep and Bartolo were slated for the garden, March 1, but Sal developed a cold and the bout was postponed.

This is the first of three world title bouts scheduled for New York this month.

Next comes Joe Louis and Billy Conn at Yankee Stadium, June 19, followed nine days later by Bob Montgomery and Allen Stolz for the lightweight crown at the garden.

If the fight fan has any dough left after this triple-header, Mike Jacobs will dig up more fisticuffs to take it.

The Pep-Bartolo title contest goes at eight bucks less than the nontitle Beau Jack-Johnny Greco joust, and at a $12 top is expected to outdraw the other young savages, who grossed a disappointing $66,922, by $10,000.

Money is being tossed around as loosely as boxing is now being run.

PATTERSON HOMERS; ARNOLD BLANKS BEES

Cowboys Raise P. L. Lead to Three Games

By MAJOR HOOPLE

SALT LAKE CITY, June 7—Manager Earl Bolyard felt so good and so supremely confident in his ability after pitching his Cowboys to a 9-0 lead over the Salt Lake City Bees that he bowed to the pleas of his players that he give the team's morale lifter-upper a chance to beat the club for which he once pitched and which gave him the "run-around" when he returned from doing duty for his Uncle Sam. The pitcher is "good old Sam" Dijanich and the club on which he desires to vent his spleen this evening is the Bees, of course.

Dijanich, who was given his first starting chance last week and came through nobly, will have the job of giving the Cowboys a victory that will mean a triumph in their fifth straight series and also at least maintain their Pioneer league lead which climbed with last night's victory back to three games. Also a win will probably send the Wranglers home to a near-record breaking crowd Saturday night for the opening of the Pocatello series at Jaycee park there.

Last night's victory, a seven-hit affair, pitched by Jimmy Arnold, the club's ace who thus gained his seventh win against one defeat, was the Wranglers' fifth in the 13 contests and made them heavy favorites to gain the first half crown for the league.

Arnold Fans Eight

Arnold whiffed eight batters and walked only two and never was seriously in trouble as he scattered the seven bingles made off his delivery.

Meanwhile, the Wranglers smashed out 11 hits off of Bill Leonard, Elias Castro and Lee Lopez — the most potent of which was a circuit wallop by Olney Patterson, who, with center-fielder George Leyrer, also collected a double. The homer was Patterson's third of the road trip and gave him six for the season, just one behind the league's leader — Buddy Hezlep, the Cowboys' big catcher. Leyrer also got a single, while Heslet and right-fielder Babe Jensen each had a pair of one-baggers.

Error Helps Wranglers

Singles by Arnold and Heslet and an error by Bob Shreve gave the Cowboys two in the third.

In the fifth the Cowboys put together a walk, George Leyrer's single and a double by Patterson for two more runs.

A walk, another error on Shreve, and a double by Leyrer were good for one run in the seventh. Three final runs crossed in the eighth as Bob Wittig singled, Leyrer walked, Heslet and Jensen singled and Arnold drew another walk.

Doerr's Head of Cowboys but He Pays Just Same

SALT LAKE CITY, June 7 (AP) —Maury Doerr, owner of the Twin Falls Cowboys in the Pioneer baseball league, thinks there must be mighty few persons who get into Derks field in Salt Lake City without paying.

The Cowboys' bus, in which they usually travel, was out of commission this week and Twin Falls players made the trip to Salt Lake City in private cars. Doerr drove his car, carrying a load of ballplayers.

Leaving his passengers at the clubhouse at Derks field, Doerr walked across the park to pay his respects to Eddie Mulligan, owner of the Salt Lake City Bees.

A park attendant accosted him:

"Hey, you gotta ticket?"

"Why, I'm the owner of the Twin Falls ball club," Doerr replied. "Here's my league pass."

"Don't make no difference" he was told "Ya gotta buy a ticket to get in here."

Hailey Miner Catches 8-Pound Trout at Magic As Officer Checks His License

"Well, you ought to catch some fish now," Tom Mizer, conservation officer in the Hailey vicinity, remarked to Frank Gelskie, a foreman at the Triumph mine near Hailey, as he handed him back his license after examining it at Magic reservoir Sunday.

Mizer had hardly gotten the words out of his mouth than there was a tug on Gelskie's line and he shouted:

"You're right—I've got a big one," as he began a battle with the fish.

A short time later he pulled it in—it was an eight-pounder, the largest trout reported in the Magic Valley area this season.

Mizer said that Gelskie was fishing from the bank and the bait that proved the piece de resistance to the big trout was salmon eggs.

Too Many Lines

HAILEY, June 7 — Frank Harris, Rupert, was fined $25 and costs by Probate Judge George A. McLeod for fishing with two sets of lines at Fish creek reservoir near Carey.

Mizer and P. J. "Mick" Mellermott, the new district conservation officer who is making his headquarters at Jerome, reported that fish had again begun to bite at Magic after an over-week-end lull.

Mizer said that fish were being caught in both the Little and Big Wood rivers, but that conditions were not the best, the rivers being high and roily.

Fish creek was exceptionally good for trolling, they reported. Several three and one-half pounders were caught there but the average has been around three-fourths of a pound.

Silver creek is falling and should be excellent for fishing when the season opens there on July 1.

Burley's First Golf Tourney Won by Church

BURLEY, June 7 — The first golf tournament of the year in Burley was at the Municipal golf course Sunday morning and early afternoon. About 40 took part in the play.

It was a nine hole handicap with the first nine holes determining the handicap.

The winner was S. A. Church, Burley. He had 54 with a 24 handicap to net a 30. Runner-up was Ralph Swain, 46 with a 12 handicap to net 34.

The next tournament will be a match play. The date will be announced later by Bob Whelan, golf pro at the municipal park.

The Burley golfers stated that they would like to challenge the Twin Falls players to a match tournament.

"If it isn't right—bring it back"

ON THE SPORT FRONT

By GEORGE F. REDMOND

Ye Olde Sport Scrivener was walking along Main avenue one sunny day some three years ago quite serenely and in love with the world.

"Well, what do you know about that—there's the pudgy one after all these years," he heard a man shout.

ROTH

YOSS turned in the direction of the shout and there stood a chunky gent, who said: "You don't know me, do you?"

The ancient word puddler had to admit that he didn't.

"You remember Morrie Roth from up on the Minnesota iron range, don't you? That was nearly 20 years ago."

The pudgy one did and then quickly recognized the man before him as a youngster who was quite the athletic rage in northern Minnesota when he himself was just a journalistic neophyte.

Roth had come to the Magic Valley just a short time before as athletic director at the Hunt relocation camp and liked the country so well that he and his wife decided to remain.

Now he's the gent who can be seen scurrying about the city organizing, under the direction of Director Bill Folsom, the greatest recreation program that the city has ever known.

Roth and Folsom will have more than 50 teams, from tots to adults, playing softball in the city. They will have hundreds more engaged in other healthful activities throughout the summer months.

Roth's whole life was wrapped up in recreation. He himself was a fine football player, whose star was somewhat dimmed by a teammate in his high school days. That player was a 200-pound fullback, Joe Bach, who later went to Notre Dame and became one of the "Seven Mules" who aided the "Four Horsemen" to undying glory on the gridiron.

Later he played at Hibbing junior college and the University of Minnesota and when his college days were over, stepped into recreation work. He assisted Ben Leighton, now at Colgate, placed in St. Louis county, Minn., one of the most extensive recreation programs in the United States.

Twin Falls is lucky to have him.

AND THAT'S THAT FOR NOW, except: Earl Toolson of Burley, who threatens to become the first Magic Valley-born baseball player to reach the majors, had run up two victories as against no defeats for Louisville in the American association.

Markets at a Glance

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—
Stocks—Irregular; special issues advance.
Bonds—Narrow; some rails advance.
Cotton—Firm; mill buying.

Chicago
Wheat—Unchanged at ceilings.
Corn—Unchanged to 5 cents higher.
Oats—Strong; short covering, active trade.
Hogs—Steady and active; top $14.85 ceiling.
Cattle—Supplies too small for adequate trade test; practical top not established.

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—Special stocks achieved a fair amount of progress in today's market while many leaders continued their moderately lower drift.

Some buyers reinstated commitments on the idea this week's decline had served as a partial technical correction of the climb to 15-year peaks and had put the list in position to respond to any really good news.

Chrysler was off 1¼ in the final hour. Transfers approximated 1,100,000 shares.

Ahead at intervals were Studebaker, U. S. Steel, Woolworth, National Power & Light, Electric Power & Light, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, American Can, du Pont, Allied Chemical and National Can.

Bonds were quiet and narrow.

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—The market was irregular.

Ferry Army Man Pases in Texas

GLENNS FERRY, June 7 — Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday at the Bey funeral chapel here for James W. (Pete) Watkins, 42, who died Monday at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex. M/Sgt. Watkins had been at the fort for several months, becoming ill in March. He underwent an operation May 7 for brain tumor but complications from the operation resulted in his death.

He was born in Glenns Ferry May 22, 1904, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Watkins. He entered the army air corps in 1923 and was in the service until his death. He was taken prisoner by the Japanese in World war II, and took part in the death march on Bataan.

He was held prisoner in the Philippines until 1944 when he was transferred to Fukuoka, Japan. He was liberated Aug. 28, 1945, and returned to the States last Nov. 2.

Survivors include his wife, Rose, Shreveport, La.; four brothers, Roy, Elmer, Arthur and Walter, all of Glenns Ferry; three sisters, Mrs. A. L. Reddington and Mrs. L. A. Collins, both of Nampa; Mrs. O. S. Adams, Salem, Ore.; nieces and nephews.

Full military honors will be given the seregant and burial will be in Glenn Rest cemetery here.

Grain

CHICAGO, June 7 (AP)—A strong buying move sent oats futures up as much as 3½ cents at times today as inflationary psychology dominated trading. At one time all contracts of all grains were at OPA ceilings. July and September corn advanced 5 cents and a small trade developed at that level. Activity in oats was brisk.

Final prices on oats were either at the maximum or within ¼ cent of it. Gains in the active futures ranged from 2¼ to 3⅝ cents. July held unchanged at 88c. Corn was unchanged to 5 cents higher, July $1.46½. There was some trade in July and September wheat at $1.98½, unchanged, and July rye at $1.58½, unchanged. Bid prices on barley were unchanged.

Flying Equipment To Be Displayed Sunday at Park

Army air corps B-29 engines, instrument panels and other aviation equipment will be shown to Twin Falls residents Saturday and Sunday at the city park, Frank Morris, army recruiter, announced Friday.

The equipment will be displayed by an army air forces mobile unit manned by skilled technicians, many of whom have operated the equipment in actual combat. The equipment will be set up to operate just as it does under actual conditions.

On display will be a B-29 and P-51 engine, a B-24 hydraulic system and instrument panel, B-29 superfortress supercharger, Hamilton hydromatic propeller, cannons, machine guns and other items.

New Registrar

Mrs. Victor McBeth, 345 Fifth avenue east, has replaced Mrs. Mildred Brown as registrar of precinct No. 1 during registration for the Tuesday primary.

Band Concert Well Greeted Thursday

A small but receptive crowd attended the first weekly municipal band concert of the summer series Thursday night in city park.

The night was chilly and many members of the audience were in parked cars nearby and sounded their horns in applause. Charles Ratcliffe is director of the 28-piece band. Concerts begin at 8:15 p. m. Thursdays.

The program included:

"143rd Field Artillery March," Marsales; selections from the "Show Boat," Jerome Kerns; "My Buddy," Donaldson; "The Wizard of the Nile," waltzes by Victor Herbert; "Trombones on Parade," march by Taylor; "Blue Guidon March," Schultz; "Ole South Patrol," Zamecnik; "Macnamara's Band," O'Connor; "Bells of St. Mary's," Adams; "The Naval Reserve March," Sousa, and "The Star Spangled Banner."

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS

SUMMONS

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE ELEVENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF THE STATE OF IDAHO, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF TWIN FALLS.

W. A. VAN ENGELEN, PLAINTIFF, VS, JAMES F. HALLOWELL AND HIS WIFE, MRS. JAMES F. HALLOWELL; UNKNOWN HEIRS AND UNKNOWN DEVISEES OF JAMES F. HALLOWELL, DECEASED; UNKNOWN HEIRS AND UNKNOWN DEVISEES OF MRS. JAMES F. HALLOWELL, DECEASED; DEFENDANTS.

THE STATE OF IDAHO SENDS GREETINGS TO THE ABOVE NAMED DEFENDANTS:

You are hereby notified that a complaint has been filed against you in the District Court of the Eleventh Judicial District of the State of Idaho, in and for the County of Twin Falls, by the above named plaintiff, and you are hereby directed to appear and plead to the said Complaint within twenty days of the service of this summons; and you are further notified that unless you so appear and plead to said Complaint within the time herein specified, the Plaintiff will take judgment against you as prayed in said Complaint;

This action is brought to secure a decree of the Court directing that Defendants surrender for cancellation and satisfaction of record, as paid in full, a certain mortgage dated December 15, 1916, of record in Book 34 of Mortgages page 569 of the records of the County Recorder of Twin Falls County, Idaho, given by Arthur L. Swim & Co., a corporation, to Henry Carstens, Trustee, on Lot 2 in Block 102, Twin Falls Townsite, Twin Falls County, Idaho, and by said Henry Carstens, Trustee, assigned January 3, 1917, to defendant James P. Hallowell.

WITNESS My hand and the seal of the said District Court this 3rd day of June, 1946.

Application of 2, 4-D Told by County Agent

Since the per acre pound content of 2,4-D preparations is more important than the carrier, J. N. Grimes, director of the county noxious weed bureau, Thursday announced how much of the chemical was contained in various strengths of the mixture or solution.

In one gallon of liquid preparations, a 10 per cent strength contains one pound of 2,4-D, 20 per cent has two pounds and 40 per cent has four pounds.

One pound, three pounds and four pounds respectively of pure 2,4-D are found in the following strengths and gross weights of these powered preparations:

10 per cent, 10 pounds, 30 pounds, 40 pounds; 60 per cent, one pound and 10 ounces, four pounds and 14 ounces, six and one-half pounds; 70 per cent, one pound and six ounces, four pounds and three ounces, five and one-half pounds; 93 per cent, one pound and three ounces, three pounds and nine ounces, four and three-quarter pounds.

The following amounts of pure 2,4-D per acre are needed for the following uses: one pound for morning glory in wheat (100 gallons of water spray are specifically recommended here); three pounds for morning glory elsewhere; four pounds for Canada thistle and sow thistle and five or six pounds for Russian knapweed and white top.

One hundred to 200 gallons of water should be used for each acre. Farmers who use 500 to 600 gallons get poor results because the excessive water weakens the killer and the 2,4-D runs off the weeds too rapidly.

Grimes has stopped selling a 20 per cent liquid preparation and now has for sale a 40 per cent liquid. He will soon have 500 printed forms for distribution and they will give the above information about 2,4-D content in various preparations. Adding a small amount of thin oil to the spray solution will cause the 2,4-D to better cling to weeds, he said.

Grimes emphasized that he would sell weed killer to farmers only. Persons doing commercial weed spraying cannot buy the chemical from him.

Funeral Held for Mrs. J. Kornher

GOODING, June 7—Funeral service for Mrs. John Kornher were conducted by the Rev. Irvin Motz at the Thompson funeral chapel here. Mrs. Kornher died at St. Luke's hospital, Boise, May 27, of a heart attack after undergoing an operation last week.

She was born Aug. 5, 1898, at Lincoln, Neb. With her family she moved to South Dakota and later to Idaho Falls, March 19, 1923, she married John Kornher.

Survivors include her husband; one daughter, Helen Kornher, Gooding; two sons, Kenneth Kornher, Gooding; Ensign John L. Kornher, with the navy; sister, Mrs. Richard Brandt, Jamestown, N. D.; brother, Fred Lamke, Modesto, Calif.

She was an active member of the Gooding PTA, health council here, Navy Mothers, WSCS and the Methodist church and the Marguerite Rebeka lodge. She was also county chairman of organization of 4-H clubs.

Pallbearers were Robert Bolte, F. D. Van Amburg, Van Prather, George Jenkins, Roy Mink and Myron Bliss. The Rebekahs lodge conducted graveside rites in Elmwood cemetery.

Rupert Rites Held For W. H. Crawford

RUPERT, June 7—Last rites for W. H. Crawford were held at the First Baptist church here with the Rev. O. L. Johnson, Weiser, officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. M. S. Osborne, Baptist pastor here.

Pallbearers were Don Lawson, Roy Schneider, Virgil Davidson, Kenneth McKenzie, Chad Maxey and Leo McKendrick. Flowers were in charge of Mrs. Maxey and Mrs. Schneider. Burial was in the Rupert cemetery.

Row Over $200,000 Johnson Estate Moves Nearer Decision

The Johnson case involving at least $200,000 in disputed property moved closer to settlement during a final hearing yesterday afternoon in district court when District Judge Guy Stevens, Blackfoot, gave the defendants' counsel five days to file a last brief and the plaintiff's attorneys three days to comment on it.

M. W. Johnson, Los Angeles, formerly of Twin Falls, is suing his stepmother, Gertrude Walter Johnson, Twin Falls, and her sister, Mrs. Jennie Wren Wilder, Oakley, to recover the property from them.

The plaintiff claims that under an oral contract between himself and his father, the late C. F. Johnson, formerly of Twin Falls, the plaintiff secured a property settlement between his estranged parents prior to their divorce in 1924. These parents have since died. The plaintiff alleges that under the oral agreement his father agreed to leave all his property to the plaintiff upon the father's death. Johnson claims he fully performed all of the provisions of the oral agreement and is now seeking specific performance of the oral contract.

Transfer Attacked

He is attacking the transfers and conveyances under which the defendants obtained title to the property belonging to his father. The plaintiff is also attacking the last will and testament of his father made shortly before his death, on the grounds of fraud and undue influence on the part of Gertrude Walter Johnson. The son asserts that his father was incompetent at the time the will, transfers and conveyances were made and that the father was suffering from an insane delusion that the plaintiff was not his son.

Therefore the plaintiff asks to recover all of the estate or half of it as an heir. If either of these requests is granted the plaintiff wants invoked a constructive trust. If the trust were invoked the defendants would hold in trust for the plaintiff the properties and monies to the extent of his interest as might be found by the court.

Jurisdiction Discussed

Judge Stevens, during the hearing discussed the question of whether the court had jurisdiction as a court of equity to grant relief to the plaintiff if the court found that evidence failed to establish the oral contract which the plaintiff seeks to have specifically performed. This question was covered by the plaintiff's attorneys in their briefs but was not sufficiently discussed by the defendants' lawyers in their briefs. Therefore the court granted time for submission of such a brief and any comment on it by the plaintiff's lawyers.

Judge Stevens will render his decision after he has read the documents. The defendants were in court but the plaintiff was absent.

Attorneys for the plaintiff are R. P. Parry, Marshall Chapman and Graydon W. Smith. Lawyers for the defendants are James R. Bothwell, J. W. Taylor, Buhl, and Branch Bird, Gooding.

Campaign Set by Concert Members

Sept. 23 has been set as the beginning of the fall campaign to be conducted by the Twin Falls Community Concert association, Mrs. L. E. Hinton has been named campaign chairman.

Plans were formulated at a meeting of the association board held at the city hall at 8 p. m. Thursday. Ed Storey, national representative of the association, was introduced by President Charles Shirley. Storey discussed plans for the fall campaign and suggested available artists for this territory.

Mrs. George Warberg was selected as publicity chairman. Mrs. Warberg explained that this is the second year that the concert series is being offered to the residents of Magic Valley.

Saying that the association looks back on a very successful year, she named the artists who had appeared in last year's series — Zadel Skolowsky, pianist; Henri Temianka, violinist; a foxhole ballet; and Helen Jepson, soprano of the Metropolitan opera company.

Three or four programs are being planned for the coming season. Present members will be given first chance at obtaining new membership cards.

6 Autoists Fined In Court at Buhl

BUHL, June 7 — Six traffic violators had been fined in the court of A. J. Amos, city judge, Thursday, in line with a decision of the city council to crack down on offending motorists.

Fined $15 for speeding were J. N. Osterkamp and Bus Linty. Den H. Lyons paid $5 for turning around in the middle of a block with his motorcycle. Fines of $3 for improper parking were paid by E. A. Harral, William Reed and V. E. Probasco.

Lloyd Heberson paid $5 for failure to dispose of rubbish in back of the C. C. Anderson store, on a complaint signed by Fire Chief Bob Stewart.

The Buhl city council announced that the traffic laws will be more stringently enforced. Speeding, failure to stop at stop signs, improper parking and other traffic violations will be subject to arrests and fines previously set up by the council.

Representatives of the Buhl Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce met with the council to discuss parking problems. The group decided to get suggestions from the Granges whose members trade in Buhl as to the most helpful form of parking restrictions to ease the congested conditions in the main shopping districts of the city."

The city ordinance for the appropriation of funds for city administration for the fiscal year was also approved, and the council accepted a two-year auditing contract at $200 per annual audit, with LaMoyne Mayfield, Boise.

Named to Fraternity

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, June 7 — Two Magic Valley students were among 18 students who gained membership in Kappa Delta Pi, national educational honorary at the University of Idaho. The two students are Gene Ricketts, Jerome, and Leland Cargill, Gooding.
